presents

UPDATES TO FOREIGN OPERATORS SURVEILLANCE PROGRAMME

Friday, 20 July 2018 | Singapore Aviation Academy
2:00 PM - 5:00 PM | Sim Kee Boon Auditorium, Level 1

As a safety regulator and in line with ICAO's standards, CAAS conducts safety surveillance of foreign operators' aircraft that operate into and out of Singapore. CAAS requires each foreign commercial operator flying into and out of Singapore to hold an Operations Permit. As part of safety surveillance, ramp inspections are also conducted on the foreign operator's aircraft when they are in Singapore.

It has been more than four years since CAAS introduced the Foreign Operators Surveillance Programme (FOSP). Many lessons were learnt and some enhancements were made to the FOSP. In this seminar, you will be briefed on recent changes and be refreshed on the applicable safety regulations. We will share our approach in performing safety assessment and methodology for continued surveillance on the foreign operators and their aircraft. There will also be sharing on some of the notable ramp inspection findings and occurrences. At the end of the seminar, you will also have the opportunity to seek further clarifications on the FOSP and share on your experiences.

ABOUT THE CAAS SAFETY SERIES

CAAS seeks to promote a strong safety culture and embed a robust safety framework through greater collaboration and engagement with the aviation community. The CAAS Safety Series was therefore launched in early 2011 as a platform to better engage the aviation industry on developments in safety policies and regulations as well as new initiatives from the industry. The Series comprises a mix of talks, workshops or seminars on topical issues related to aviation safety.

Please visit www.caas.gov.sg for the calendar of events.
